

Meet farmers where they are and with the content they want. Illinois Field & Bean is back, and so are your chances of reaching the most Illinois soybean farmers where they already are. When you partner with Illinois Field & Bean, you gain access to the state's 43,000+ soybean growers. Illinois Soybean Association (ISA) is proud of our invested audience and the advocacy, promotion, and education we share year-round on behalf of Illinois soybean farmers. This is all unique to our publication and can translate to major impact for your business.

With the publication's relaunch, we aim to bring more value to farmers through our fresh take on checkoff and non-checkoff topics, sharing engaging stories that convey what's happening in the Illinois farmer community. We want to help Illinois soybean farmers feel more informed, knowledgeable and competitive with each issue. And we want to give you more visibility.
